

Tuesday 21 February 2012Combined Community Plan for Osbornes and Allans Flat

The Indigo Shire Council's Community Strengthening Project is commencing in Allans and Osbornes flat next week, with a Community Planning meeting taking place at 7.30pm on Wednesday 29 February at the Osborne Flat Community Hall.

The Community Strengthening project has been happening in communities across the shire for the last two years, helping to identify what is important to them, and supporting community projects that build upon local strengths.

Now it is the people of Allans and Osbornes Flats who will start the process, and begin putting forward ideas. Local residents will have the opportunity to decide on the most appropriate process for Allans and Osbornes Flat, and to begin brainstorming ideas for the Community Plan.

"It is important that a range of people come along, to ensure that the whole community is represented", says one of the Shire's Community Strengthening Project Officers, Chris McGorlick. "So everyone is welcome, whether you are still at school, retired, or a member of a local committee."

The meeting will run until 9pm, and a light supper will be served. For further information, please call Chris McGorlick on 1300 365 003, or email cmcmgorlick@indigoshire.vic.gov.au.
