A message from the Mayor

We are about to start developing our new Council Plan, the key document that will outline our main goals and priorities over the next four years. We have received hundreds of responses — online and on paper — to our community survey which began in December last year and has recently concluded. Thank you for that.

The next steps are:

1. Prioritise all the feedback. This is an important step and I urge you to be a part of it. In the next few weeks we will be holding Community Meetings where we will go through all the feedback and prioritise the ideas. So please come along to one of these meetings, the schedule is on the left.

2. After these meetings, a draft Council Plan will be put to Council on 2 May for endorsement for public comment until the end of May. This is another chance for you to have input. Part of this process will be a series of "Listening Posts" where you can view and discuss the plan with Councillors and staff. The times are also on the left.

3. The final Council Plan is set to be adopted by Council on 27 June.

Initiatives included in the Council Plan get priority from the budget each year. Council is operating within a tight financial environment, which makes it all the more important we understand our community's priorities.

— Cr Jenny O'Connor

Listening Posts 10am-12 noon

- Saturday 6 May, Beechworth and Wahgunyah, outside post offices
- Saturday 13 May, Rutherglen and Chiltern, outside IGA
- Saturday 13 May, Barnawartha, outside post office
- Saturday 20 May, Yackandandah and Kiewa-Tangambalanga, outside newsagent

Give it all you've got!

If we can attack the new year with as much gusto as this cowgirl, we can't miss. Molly Phibbs of Chiltern and her pony left nothing in the stalls attacking the barrel race at the Beechworth Rodeo last month, determination and elation in equal parts on both their faces.

Indigo Shire Council is a sponsor of the event, held each January in the fabulous amphitheatre setting at the back of Mayday Hills, showcasing the skills of riders and wranglers from all over Australia.

Next chance to see some more world class horsemanship and fast and furious four-footed action is the Chiltern Rodeo on Sunday 12 March.

Heritage award nominations open

Nominations for the Indigo Shire Heritage Awards 2017 are now open.

The Awards recognise and acknowledge outstanding contributions to cultural heritage across the Shire and are open to junior and senior community members, schools, private, domestic and commercial projects and other heritage-based activities.

The Indigo Shire Heritage Advisory Committee welcomes nominations from individuals and groups, and from government and private sectors.

Heritage values are an integral part of the Indigo community. The Awards highlight our commitment to celebrate and promote our cultural heritage through advocacy, conservation and restoration, research, education, promotion, interpretation, training and awareness-raising stories, music, art, performance, theatre, objects and literature as well as gardens, landscapes, buildings, public and private places.

The Heritage Advisory Committee invites and encourages all schools in the Indigo Shire to participate in the Awards Program as our junior citizens will one day be the custodians of the Shire's important heritage places and of its history.

The 2017 National Trust Heritage Festival will take place from 18 April to 21 May 2017. The Festival theme is Having a Voice, recognising the many narratives that have shaped Victoria.

Our shared heritage is rich with voices from many cultures. Having a Voice is about taking time to stop and listen to stories from every corner of our society. For further information see www.nationaltrust.org.au/vic

More information and nomination forms are available at www.indigoshire.vic.gov.au/heritageawards and at Council's Customer Service Centres and libraries. Nominations close on Friday 31 March 2017.

Kay is visitor 50,000 to the Ned Kelly Vault

On unlucky Friday 13 January Kay Gilmore of Box Hill became lucky visitor number 50,000 at the Ned Kelly Vault.

That's her in the photo being arrested by tour guides Ian Sinclair and Keith Warren for some interrogation by the media. Kay was a great sport throughout the event, and received a selection of gifts to remind her of her stay in Beechworth.

Indigo Shire's Heritage Precinct Manager Patrick Watt said for a town with a population of 3500, having 50,000 paid visitors to this museum was a remarkable milestone worth acknowledging and celebrating.

The Ned Kelly Vault is an annexe of the famous 1863 Burke Museum in Beechworth.

The Vault opened in August 2014 and visitor after visitor has expressed surprise and approval. The comments book is lavished with expressions like "best museum ever", "excellent", "educational" and "entertaining".

Indigo Shire has developed a strong volunteer program that ensures that the Vault is always open and the knowledge of the volunteers is relevant.

"The museum is not a monument to Ned, it is simply an amazing collection supported with museological rigour," Mr Watt said.

Kelly biographer Ian Jones notes that "nowhere in the world can you get closer to the world Ned Kelly knew".

Community Organisation of the Year

Kiewa-Tangambalanga Lions Club

The Kiewa-Tangambalanga Lions Club has supported the community in many ways over the past 30 years. They took over the former kindergarten building which is now the club community centre and is used by nine other groups.

The Lions Club raises funds through a range of community events, runs the Australia Day Celebrations, Youth of the Year contest and the Junior Public Speaking event as well as other primary school projects. Lions organise and run the Milk Run held each year, and help people in need for excursions.

Shire Australia Day Awards 2017

Patricia Robinson, Citizen of the Year

Pat Robinson of Rutherglen is our Citizen of the Year in recognition of her tireless work in all of her volunteering positions over many decades.

These include Meals on Wheels, the Rutherglen Primary School Library, Glenview Nursing Home, Neighbourhood Watch, PROBUS Rutherglen, Albury and North East Victoria Legacy, Rutherglen and District Swimming Club and the Rutherglen Information Centre.

She has volunteered as a bookkeeper at the community newspaper and the Rutherglen Rotary Club, who bestowed a Paul Harris Fellowship in 2012.

Pat and her late husband Laurie were founding members of the Rutherglen and District Artist Society in 1991, a group which has returned $50,000 to the community and not-for-profit organisations.

Pat has offered support to a variety of people in the communities she has lived. In Broadmeadows she worked with team swimmers, in Brunswick she taught touch typing — with her support every student passed the final exam.

In Rutherglen her support is evident in the successful sale of 900 members' paintings from their galleries in High Street and the Information Centre, and 750 paintings at the Annual Art Shows.

Pat promoted and encouraged local artists to pursue their dreams. She still does.

Pat gives her best at all times and such generosity of spirit is well deserving of recognition as Indigo Shire's Citizen of the Year.

Young Citizen of the Year Pip Gill

Pip is respected throughout the Chiltern community for her polite and helpful demeanour. She is known by many people through her work at the swimming pool and her previous part-time job at the Chiltern IGA. Pip is also an active member of the Chiltern Fire Brigade and has recently graduated from Junior Fire Brigade ranks to become a full senior member of the brigade. Pip helps with the care of a family member while working hard to maintain an excellent academic record at Rutherglen High School. Pip was a student vice captain and dux of the school in 2016.

Emma George Sporting Scholarship

Zoe Deacon

Zoe Deacon, 16, is a swimmer from Browns Plains. She started competitive swimming aged 8 with the Rutherglen Swimming Club. Zoe also represented the Rutherglen Primary School in a relay at the state finals of School Sports Victoria. Zoe is now a member of the Wodonga Amateur Swimming Club where she can train all year round.

Zoe competes regionally, at state level and nationally in the 100m and 200m breaststroke, and 200m individual medley. In 2016 she won medals at the Victorian State Championships, the Swimming Australia Age and Open National Championships, the Victorian Country Championships and in the Ovens and Murray District Competition.

Zoe is a member of the Swimming Victoria Talent ID Squad and the Swimming Victoria High Performance Squad.

Zoe has volunteered as a junior club assistant coach where she trains young swimmers twice a week and also assists with fundraising activities for her club.

Chiltern oval upgrade

The quagmire that has been the Chiltern football oval in past footy seasons is no longer.

Council put $100,000 towards the project, DELWP contributed $49,000 and the Chiltern Recreation Reserve Committee of Management provided $30,000 in-kind support and were the project managers.

The work involved significant drainage improvements, installing across the oval to connect with a perimeter conduit.

Newly sown grass will have time to establish and consolidate before football training begins for the new season.

Caring for street trees

Council waters all immature street trees on a monthly basis over summer. If there is a new tree on your nature strip, a 20-50 litre drink once a week will be of great benefit. If you notice dieback, pests or disease, let Council know. Don't put lawn clippings around the base of a tree. Lawn clippings do not allow aeration as mulch does, and restrict the ability of the root ball to breathe. Clippings also draw significant amounts of nitrogen from the soil.

Communications boost

Indigo Shire will receive a mobile phone tower near the Yackandandah turn-off on the Beechworth-Wodonga Road to cover a major black spot.

The Commonwealth Government's mobile phones blackspot program allocation is in response to advocacy from Council and the Member for Indi, Cathy McGowan, in the wake of the 2015-16 Indigo Valley and Barnawartha bushfire.

The Mayor, Cr Jenny O'Connor, said much of the credit in securing the tower was due to the fighting spirit of the Indigo Valley and Barnawartha community.

$196,000 grants for skateboarders, swimmers

Skateboarders and BMXers will soon be busting out new moves and tricks in a brand new skate park in Yackandandah, thanks to a $100,000 grant from the State Government's Community Sports Infrastructure Fund.

The skate park will now host a contemporary, inclusive and accessible facility, replacing the current basic park layout. Indigo Council will contribute a further $140,000 to the project.

The Indigo Shire Mayor, Cr Jenny O'Connor, said she was thrilled by the announcement.

"The need for a new skate park in Yackandandah has been well established and to receive this grant is a fitting outcome and a credit to the work of the local young people and broader community over many years," she said.

"The facility will add diversity to the Yackandandah sport and recreation offerings and contribute greatly to community life".

The swimming pools at Yackandandah and Beechworth will also benefit from significant upgrades which will improve the experience of patrons and reduce operating costs. Both will have solar heating systems installed which will offer the potential for season extensions and create greater opportunities for user groups. The $100,000 project is supported by $66,000 from the state government and $34,000 from Indigo Council.

"The installation of an efficient solar system at the Rutherglen pool has brought about great benefits to users and also reduced Council's operating costs," Cr O'Connor said.

"Now we can continue the initiative at the popular Yackandandah and Beechworth pools."

The State Government will also contribute $30,000 to the development of a new Indigo Shire Recreation Plan.

The $45,000 project will assess future and current sport and recreation trends and needs, and will provide Council with a clear 3-4 year direction on the priority programs and facilities for development and support.

Heat kills more Australians than any natural disaster

More people have died during extreme heat than in any natural disaster. In the 2009 Victorian heatwave 374 people died, most aged over 65.

During extreme heat it is easy to become dehydrated or for your body to overheat. If this happens, you may develop heat cramps, heat exhaustion or even heatstroke.

Heatstroke is a medical emergency which can result in permanent damage to your vital organs, or even death, if not treated immediately.

With heatwaves becoming a regular feature of the Victorian summer, it's important to plan ahead and consider how you can look after yourself and others when the extreme heat hits.

There are simple things you can do to stay safe in the heat:

- Drink water. Even if you don't feel thirsty, drink water. Take a bottle with you always.
- Hot cars kill. Never leave children, adults or pets in hot cars. The temperature inside a parked car can soar dangerously within minutes.

- Keep cool. Seek out air conditioned buildings, draw your blinds, use a fan, take cool showers and dress in light and loose clothing made from natural fabrics.
- Plan ahead. Schedule activities in the coolest part of the day and avoid exercising in the heat. If you must go out, wear a hat and sunscreen and take a bottle of water with you.
- Help others. Look after those most at risk in the heat, your neighbour living alone, the elderly, the young, people with a medical condition and don't forget your pets.

If you or anyone you know feels unwell on a hot day call NURSE-ON-CALL on 1300 60 60 24, or call 000 in an emergency. For more information visit betterhealth.vic.gov.au/heat

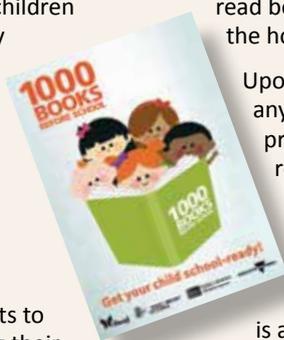

Reading together prepares littlies for a better school experience, and provides a lovely quiet bonding time for everyone!

1000 Books Before School

Research has found that children who are read to every day at an early age extend their vocabulary, increase their reading readiness and display improved cognitive skills when they enter school.

The 1000 Books Before School campaign helps libraries to support parents to play a vital role in building their children's early literacy. Parents and their children are encouraged to read books from anywhere including the home and the library.

Upon joining the program at any Indigo Shire library, your pre-school child will receive a registration pack, a tote bag, stickers and reading records. More details online, and at your nearest branch library.

1000 Books Before School is a joint initiative of State Library Victoria and Public Libraries Victoria Network.

Be a tech-savvy senior!

It's on again! Starting in March 2017 Indigo Shire library branches will be offering a series of one-on-one tutorials on internet and cyber-safety, emails, social media, shopping and online banking.

Victorian Tech Savvy Seniors is a Seniors Card Age Friendly Partners Program.

It is designed to give people, particularly those located in regional and rural areas of Victoria, the opportunity to develop skills to use technology for socialising, accessing important services, or conducting personal business. Contact your library branch for details and bookings.

Frocking up for afternoon tea

Author Rosalie Ham will visit Indigo Shire Libraries as part of the State Library of Victoria's High Road to Reading program. Renowned for her popular book The Dressmaker, now a film directed BY Jocelyn Moorhouse, Rosalie will visit the Shire during the WRAP festival in Beechworth.

Attendees are encouraged to "frock up" in keeping with the book's theme of 1950s haute couture. The author will be available for book signings and Beechworth Books will have copies for sale at the event.

Beechworth Library, Saturday 11 February 2017, 2.30-3.30pm. This is a free event but bookings are essential. Go to www.indigoshirelibraries.com.au to reserve your place.

Summer Reading Club

These two reading heroes are well on their way to becoming champions with their participation in Indigo Shire's school holiday program.

William and James Donaldson joint in all the activities at the Rutherglen Library, and had a terrific time reading all about Heroes and Villains.

Along with dozens of others across the Shire, the brothers enjoyed keeping a list of the books they had read, with stickers, competitions and lots of fun.

Doing the right thing by our pets

Indigo Shire Council has adopted a range of measures to help educate pet owners and the community on animal management, responsible pet ownership, and Local Government rules and regulations.

The Domestic Animal Management Plan covers all aspects of pet and other animal ownership and is designed to ensure public safety, regulation of pet ownership, and risk minimisation.

Council records show that numbers of cats and dogs being impounded has fallen each year for the past four years, reflecting Rangers' efforts to locate owners and return animals directly rather than transport them to the pound in Albury

The Domestic Animal Management Plan lists the policies and procedures of the Indigo Shire Council Enforcement Team and its adherence to Local Laws. The Plan covers responses to a range of issues, including: registration and identification, nuisance behaviour, dog attacks, dangerous, menacing and restricted breed dogs, overpopulation and euthanasia, domestic animal businesses, and emergency management procedures.

The Plan ensures that Council, ratepayers, residents and visitors conform with the requirements of the Domestic Animals Act 1994 for the benefit of everyone — and their pets as well. For more information, see www.indigoshire.vic.gov.au/animals.

When your dog needs a run, make sure you always carry a plastic bag so you can dispose of your dog's droppings appropriately.

Indigo Shire Council provides several leash-free areas so dogs and owners can enjoy the great outdoors.

In Beechworth, Baarmutha Park off Balaclava Road is the designated leash-free zone. Dog owners in Barnawartha can head to the Barnawartha Recreation Reserve while Chiltern residents can exercise their dogs off-leash at the Chiltern Recreation Reserve.

If you're in Rutherglen, enjoy a run at the aptly named Barkly Park or Rutherglen Recreation Reserve. Yackandandah dog owners are welcome at the Sports Park or Butson Park and Wahgunyah residents can make use of The Willows.

And remember, when walking your dogs in other places, keep your pet on a lead and be sure pick up after them.

Melbourne Cup Day Public Holiday

The Public Holidays Act 1993 authorises regional Councils to make their own public holiday arrangements in lieu of Melbourne Cup Day.

At its Ordinary meeting on 20 December last year, Council resolved the following:

That Council declares the Melbourne Cup Public Holiday for the Municipal District of Indigo Shire, be held on the first Tuesday in November for the next four years.

This means that Melbourne Cup Day will be a public holiday in Indigo Shire for the next four years.

Plan early for winter

Don't wait until the first chilly winds of winter to swirl under your door — beat the rush and make a start now.

Indigo Shire Council has all the information you need to access firewood from roadsides and plantations, and provides required forms and tips on how to go about it legally and safely.

Council's community woodlot program has been extremely popular with eligible pensioners requesting a load of winter firewood. Why not apply now?

Go to www.indigoshire.vic.gov.au/firewood and get cracking!

Communications upgrade in the pipeline

People in Rutherglen and Wahgunyah might soon notice some interesting activity on their footpaths with the appearance of small concrete slabs and promising grey-green cabinets.

That's right, the national broadband network is coming to town!

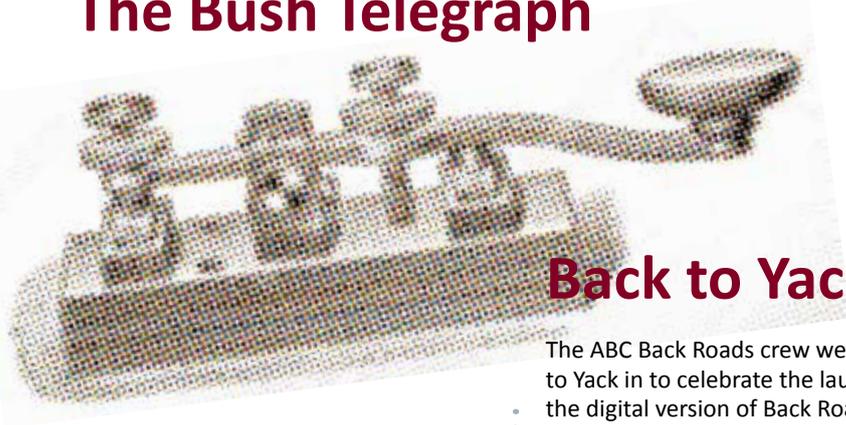

The nbn's proposed infrastructure is to be installed using a combination of above and below ground equipment.

They will install 18 fibre telecommunication nodes at various locations around the towns.

Although the nbn sometimes needs to reschedule its work around the country, with the full cooperation and support of Indigo Shire Council it is all set to tackle this project sooner rather than later.

The Bush Telegraph

Back to Yack

The ABC Back Roads crew were Back to Yack in to celebrate the launch of the digital version of Back Roads. The ABC held a live broadcast in the new forecourt at the shire offices.

Along with the broadcast crew Costa Georgiadis from ABC Gardening visited the Yackandandah Primary School, Yack Health and the community gardens to share his passion for gardening. The evening was capped off with a fabulous community street party with live music and lots of family activities.

The final figures are not in yet, but the experts estimate the radio broadcast reached about 1.3 million listeners.

Be fire safe

With the fire season upon us it is vital to clear out excess grass and rubbish, clean spouting, prepare and practise your Fire Plan.

- Do you know how to find your nearest Neighbourhood Safer Place?
- Have you considered your safety options if you need to evacuate under threat of bushfire?
- What are the rules for burning off over the Declared Fire Danger Period and the restrictions on Total Fire Ban days?
- Ensure power lines are clear of vegetation. Call a registered electrician or tree clearer if needed. Visit ausnetservices.com.au for more information.

The CFA website, www.cfa.vic.gov.au has guides on farm fire safety, including fuel reduction, protection of hay, use of machinery and harvesters, emergency service access and burning off.
